I was thinking

Dear Fellow Traveller,

The business world have come up with this observation — "The first generation builds the business, the second makes it a success, and the third wrecks it". We live in a world of change and every generation tries to make its own mark. Most older people comment on how fast things are changing and the world they were born into is long gone. There is a saying that 'each new born is in fact a new world'. We all are unique and see things in a different way. New challenges arise and new solutions are needed. In the past people laboured hard to just get by. Today their offspring, are living in a more affluent society. Leisure time and affluence have helped to throw us back upon ourselves and force us to search for deeper meaning, interpersonal and spiritual. Now more than any time before we have the opportunity to change for the betterment of all. However if this time and energy is not channelled correctly we run the risk of restlessness, loneliness and frustration, which in turn may cause us to act in an unjust, harmful way. While loneliness is a human condition it seems to be intensifying to the extent where some lose the will to live. The only antidote is authentic community. In today's gospel story we see what happens when people change and forget the principles for life.

We also forget that we are just caretakers of this world and that life is a gift.

Have a wonder-full week.

F.K.

Our Family

In our newsletter each week we will share with you a paragraph from Pope's document in preparation for the 'The World Meeting of Families' which will take place in Dublin on the 21st -26th of August 2018. Pope Francis' Encyclical "The Joy of Love" (Amoris Laetitia) is about his vision for family life. Each family is unique and special and Pope Francis affirms this while concentrating on the good news.

Week 2 extract:

"We must be grateful that most people do value family relationships that are permanent and marked by mutual respect. They appreciate the Church's efforts to offer guidance and counselling in areas related to growth in love, overcoming conflict and raising children. Many are touched by the power of grace experienced in sacramental Reconciliation and in the Eucharist, grace of that helps them face the challenges of marriage and the family.
