I was thinking

“No man is an island, entire of itself,
Every man is a piece of the continent, a part of the main.
If a clod be washed away by the sea, the World is the less.
I am involved in mankind”. [Adapted from the Poem]

John Donne's famous poem reminds us that we are all connected with each other, that we need each other and that we are better when we are involved with each other. Human beings do not thrive when isolated from others. We list in this sheet some of the local clubs organisations and events in our area. September is a good time to join/ and get involved.
