Trocaire:

"It's one of my childhood memories, the Trocaire Box and what it meant, offering communities in Ireland the chance to contribute their compassion to those suffering around the world. It's the greatest gift we can give, to give people the resources and the knowledge to fight whatever barriers they have, to take control of their own lives. And while I work at the global level, my heart is local. Trocaire have offered compassion and support to those who tend to be forgotten; marginalised, dehumanised, deprived of basic rights, deprived of healthcare and food and identity; deprived of the thing we cherish most in Ireland: a home, a stable community. Whatever the context, whatever those needs, Trocaire, your workers, your supporters, have stood to bear witness for what is good in the world at all times." Dr. Mike Ryan is from near Tubbercurry, Co. Sligo, and studied medicine at N.U.I.G Today he leads the WHO treatment of Covid-19 internationally.

Salthill Parish is committed to the protection of all children and young people in our Church.

SCATTERED THOUGHTS !

Dear Fellow Traveller,

Since Easter most of our readings at Mass focus on the mission of the disciples as they find their voice and begin to speak about the risen Jesus. Though they had failed to grasp all Jesus had said to them during their time together, the truth has dawned and they feel duty bound to share their faith and their understanding of how life should be lived with others. To some, their message is a welcome sound and, for others, a voice too far that needs to be silenced. So we find the apostles being imprisoned, punished and warned not to speak in “the name of Jesus.” Despite all this, they preach with enthusiasm, urgency and daily, we are told, people are added to their number. Where did they get this courage? The answer, it seems, comes from the many occasions Jesus revealed himself to them after his resurrection. His greeting of choice was “Peace be with you” and, on almost all occasions, he seems to have shared food with them. Often they came to recognise him in the very sharing of food “the breaking of bread.”

Is there something being said to us at this time? Something about where we find our courage to be people who stand for Truth and Justice and are voices of Hope? Something about where we find courage and how we respond to what we have found? Is there a message here about the need in our time to spend time with Jesus, allowing him to reveal himself to us? Maybe that’s what we need to do, more and more, - to allow time and space that Jesus may reveal himself and encourage us. Some people are extraordinary - We say “Don’t know how you do it !” etc. Mother Teresa first words every morning were “Good morning Jesus – now what have WE to do today ?”

I hope the warm weather and the sunshine has given you a bit of a lift . We get on with life as best we can - taking one day at a time. When asked by a friend on the Prom “How are You ?” I hope you can reply - “Thriving” instead of merely “Surviving” !

Have a good week,
G.J.

Parish News.

Big Thanks to all our parishioners who continue to support the upkeep of the parish with your financial donations. Hopefully we might be able to get back to some sort of “normality” soon. A small sign of hope arrived this week with a note to say the government will allow 25 close family mourners at a Funeral from Monday.

I was thinking . . .

We all have our own Life to live and story to tell. We each live in our own shell and deal with it as best we can. The Funeral last weekend of Prince Philip put me thinking.

It was a marriage of opposites – one a shy, introverted woman with a sheltered upbringing, the other an outgoing, brusque man with a nomadic early life – but both the Queen and Prince Philip had a strong sense of duty and a longing for stability. As he grew older, Philip renewed his interest in Greek Orthodox religion, the faith of his mother, Princess Alice, whose intense religious experiences led to her being diagnosed as schizophrenic. Philip quietly harboured a fascination with the spiritual life . He was his own man, conscious of his responsibilities and duty to his family and to society . R.I.P.
